

Contents

Editor's Foreword	vii
Chung-yi CHENG

PART I

1. The Internationalization of Confucianism in the 21st Century	3
Henry ROSEMONT, Jr.
2. Achieving Personal Identity in Confucian Role Ethics	19
Roger T. AMES
3. One Meaning of Success: A Marriage of Economics and Ethics	47
Donald J. MUNRO

PART II

4. "Of What Use Are the Odes ?" Cognitive Science, Virtue Ethics, and Early Confucian Ethics	69
Edward SLINGERLAND
5. The Art of Hearing and the Promise of Harmony in Confucian Self-Cultivation	103
Alan K. L. CHAN
6. Rediscovering the Philosophical Significance of the Category of the Transformative Dimension	117
Lauren PFISTER
7. "I Have Lost Me": Zhuangzi's Butterfly Dream	149
Zhihua YAO
8. "Centrality," "Principle" and the Formation of the "Substance/Function" ( Ti/Yong ) Dyad: Wang Bi (226–249) at the Font of Chinese Metaphysics	165
Brook ZIPORYN
9. Tang Junyi's Comparative Philosophy and the Spiritual Value of Chinese Culture	191
Sor-hoon TAN
10. On Tang Junyi's Interpretation of Liu Zongzhou	217
Wing-cheuk CHAN	